Supremely Belightful

To the emuciated and debilitated invalid is the sense of returning health and strength produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When that promoter of vigor is tested by persons in feeble health, its restorative and vitalizing potency soon evinces itself in improved appetite, digestion and nightly repose, the sole conditions under which strength and nerve quietide is yough-safed to the human eystent. A gain in flesh of course ensues upon the restoration of digestion and assimilation, as surely as winter follows the fall of the leaf, does disease shadow the footsteeps of deelining strength, when the premature docadence of vitality is not arrested. Marsamus, consumption and other wasting maladies are prompt to fasten upon the enfeebled. Avert disease, therefore, with the grand enabling tonic, which not only renews failing strength, but mitigates and counteracts the infirmitives of one and those of the gentler sex. Rheumatism, malaria, liver and kidney troubles yield to it.
